

CUTLER COMMUNICATION DEMO POLICY

Cutler Communication is pleased to offer a demo program to all customers to test the product in your own environment. The standard demo policy is as follows:

- Demo radios are invoiced for the full value of the radio before shipping to your location.
- Demos are expected to be tested for 7 days and then returned to Cutler Communications
- Demo invoice will be credited back in full to the customer upon return of product in good condition with all associated accessories and in its original packaging (including manuals, warranty cards etc.)
- Demo radios are expected to return to the warehouse immediately following the end of the 7-day demo period. If the demo product is not received by the end of 30 days, Cutler Communication will assume that you intend to keep the product at which time, no refund will be given. Any product returned after this 30-day grace period will not be refunded back to the customer.

For more information or to request a Demo please contact your local representative or call 631-277-4930.

Thank you!
